Recommended/Preparatory Training

Course title: U2 UniData Administration for UNIX

Course number: L1-UD-200 (USA);

Course duration: 4 Days

Course abstract: This hands-on, introductory course focuses on how to use UniData. Learn both the process and the theory of querying the database and creating specialized reports. Build a database file from scratch, including creating a data dictionary, entering data, and then exchanging data with other database files. Learn the Environment Control Language (ECL) and the Alternative Editor (AE). Explore advanced ECL topics, including running background processes at scheduled times and basic administration commands. A module on Process Control Language is also included.
